CELLULAR HEALTH ESSENTIALS COURSE

PARTICIPANT CONSENT FORM

Description of the Course

You have agreed to participate in the Cellular Health Essentials (CHE) educational course offered by Longevity Launch Labs (the “Course”). The Course is designed to provide a foundation-level understanding of cellular biology and systems that can be applied to cellular health. All participants are required to agree to the terms and conditions in this Consent Form as a prerequisite to participating in the Course.

Nature of Participation

Your participation in the Course is voluntary. As part of the Course, you may elect to have certain lab tests taken to provide data that you will use in the Course. Obtaining these labs is optional; you may elect not to do so, in which case sample data will be provided for you to use in the Course.

Consent to Recording

Courses may be recorded (audio or video). By participating in the Course, you consent to recording of your participation in the Course (including any information you provide) and use of such recordings in the discretion of Longevity Launch Labs.

Risks and Considerations

Participation in the Course is generally low risk; however, participation may involve minor inconveniences, time commitment, exposure to uncomfortable topics, and the opportunity to discuss personal health and lab test results. No guarantee of personal benefit is provided.

Expenses of Lab Tests.

For participants who elect to obtain lab test results, arranging and paying for the cost of such tests is the sole responsibility of the participant. Course fees do not include lab tests or other expenses.

Confidentiality and Data Use

The Course is an educational class offering, which will involve participation by multiple individuals, including potential disclosure and discussion of lab test results (for participants who elect to obtain such labs), and therefore any participant obtaining lab test results for use in the Course should be prepared for such results to be discussed among the Course participants. In particular:

- Sharing of any health information (including lab results) is always optional. If you are at all uncomfortable sharing any health information, you may elect not to do so.

- Confidentiality cannot be guaranteed for use, discussion, or analysis of any lab results shared with Course participants.
- Recordings (audio or video) of the Course, including your participation and any information that you share, may be made and used for purposes of future courses, training of artificial intelligence models, or other purposes as determined by Longevity Launch Labs.
- All results shared within the Course may be stored and maintained for internal research and development purposes.
- Longevity Launch Labs is not a covered entity or business associate under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), and therefore, HIPAA protections are not applicable.

Medical Disclaimer

- The Course is not intended to diagnose or treat any health or medical condition, or to provide medical or professional advice.
- If any lab results or other data suggest a potential health concern or need for medical attention, it is solely the participant's responsibility to seek appropriate care or consult a qualified medical professional.
- Longevity Launch Labs assumes no responsibility or liability for any actions or decisions made based on any labs or other findings.

Assumption of Responsibility

By participating in the Course, you acknowledge and agree that:

- You are responsible for acting on any personal lab test results or other findings.
- Longevity Launch Labs is not obligated to provide follow-up care, guidance, or intervention.

Ongoing Consent

By enrolling in the course, you consent to participation in the Course, including discussion and use of optional lab test results. Participation in the Course and provision of any lab test results are voluntary. You may withdraw from the Course at any time; however, withdrawal will apply to future participation and will not affect data already provided.
